Poor Soils, Synthetics Produce Inferior Results

BY ROYAL LEE, D.D.S.

Simple chemical analysis shows that the trace mineral content of vegetables varies as much as 10 to 1 or more, depending upon the quality of the soil.

In the worn-out farms of New England, and to some extent in the Mississippi valley, some land has become so poor that animals cannot be kept alive on it.

Deficiency diseases among animals are multiplying all over the country, calling for more and more veterinary attention. But antibiotics and wonder drugs are being used in the main, instead of true remedies.

Chemical fertilizers are unbalanced; the ammonia used to stimulate growth certainly must deplete the soil of other nutrients, removed by the plant. Liebig, the father of agricultural chemistry, warned against this unbalance.

It is an absolute fact that no synthetic substance has yet been successful in substituting for a natural food component.

Drs. Lukens and Dohan of the University of Pennsylvania showed that dextrose (glucose, corn syrup, corn sugar), a widely used synthetic food, was the only sugar that would cause diabetes in test animals. Besides that, it causes cancer if injected into animal tissues and blocks the assimilation of calcium if fed to babies and children.

Dr. Hardy tells how synthetically-made imitations are always optically inactive and useless as food; in fact, in some cases, poisonous, although supposedly chemically identical to the natural product. (Page 913, Collected Scientific Papers of Sir William Bate Hardy, Cambridge Univ. Press, 1936.)

Moreover, very recently Nobel Prizes were awarded to research chemists at Princeton University for their discovery that there really was a demonstrable difference between these supposedly identical substances due to their difference in origin (one from a living cell, the other from a chemist's test tube).

Every family in America should belong to the National Health Federation TO:

- 1—Protect their health
- 2—Know the truth about health matters
- 3—Reduce the cost of health care
- 4—Work for beneficial health legislation
- 5—Oppose detrimental health legislation
- 6—Secure fair and impartial law and regulation enforcement
- 7—Put a stop to injurious chemicals being added to food and drink
- 8—Maintain health liberty and freedom of choice
- 9—Have a strong and united voice in all health matters
- 10—Insist that all money raised for health research and care be used for that purpose and no other
- 11—Compel all health fund-raising organizations to give a yearly detailed account of the expenditure of all funds collected

These are the things the National Health Federation is organized to do — so join its ranks and take part in this vital effort on behalf of All America.
